HEAVY LOSSES

Over 3000 Men Fell Last Week
Along the Yalu

JAPS BOMBARDED NIUCHWANG

Chinese Disregard Russian Demands to Dismiss Japanese Officers
From the Celestial Army

Fierce Battle Near the Yalu

London, May 3rd.—A despatch from St. Petersburg says the rumor is current there that another great battle has occurred near the Yalu river. There were 30,000 Russians and 8,000 Japanese engaged. The Japanese were victorious, capturing 28 cannon and two thousand prisoners. Twenty officers and 600 men are reported wounded.

Russians Panic Stricken

Seoul, May 3rd.—1:30 p.m.—The Russian troops fell panic-stricken when routed at Chen Tien Cheng, pursued by Japanese cavalry and infantry over the whole country towards Feng Wang Cheng, from 1:50 p.m. until 8 o'clock at night.

The Russian army engaged was composed of the third division, the twenty-second and twenty-fourth regiments of the Sixth division and General Mushenka's cavalry, being supported by forty field and eight machine guns. The wounded, including the General, Chief of Staff, Sasaalitch, and General Kashilinsky, reached Antung whence the Russians were eventually driven after twenty-five minutes of fierce fighting.

Togo Attacked Again

St. Petersburg, May 3rd.—3:48 p.m.—It is reported that Vice Admiral Togo made another desperate attempt to block the entrance of Port Arthur last night but failed. Vice Roy Alexieff went out with the fleet to meet the attack and sank eight fire ships and two Japanese torpedo boats. The channel is reported to be clear.

Captured Niuch Wang

Chefoo, May 4th.—The Japanese landed troops at Kin You on Monday night and attacked and captured Niuch Wang. The Russians are falling back to retrace their railroad communication with Mukden and Port Arthur but the Japanese are said to be steadily advancing.

The Report Confirmed

Shanghai, May 4th.—News has been received from Wei Hsi Wei that a Japanese army corps landed at Kin You on Monday and captured Niuch Wang after a short but desperate battle. The Japanese fleet assisted both in effecting the landing and in shelling the Russian position prior to the assault.

Heavy Losses

St. Petersburg, May 4th.—In a report received here by the Emperor from General Kuropatkin under today's date, it is stated that from three thousand to four thousand men at least were killed in the Yalu river fight.

Chinese May Get in the Game

Shanghai, May 4th.—It is only a question of time when the Chinese regulars stationed in the section will be in position to wait informed forces, attack the Russians. Officers and men were brought to a height of anti-Russian feeling by a considerable number of Japanese officers serving with the Chinese forces. The fact that the Russians have repeatedly demanded the dismissal of those officers and that these demands have been evidently entirely ignored is regarded as significant.

WAR NOTES

Tokio despatches tell the story of the decisive battle of Sunday as follows:—

General Kuraki received reports to the effect that the Russians were fortifying the heights on the right bank of the river. These new defenses were declared to extend from Chiu Tien Cheng through the village of Hako to Koshin, a distance of three and a quarter miles. The Russians returned the Japanese bombardment on Thursday, but it was generally ineffective. Subsequently General Kuraki ordered two companies of the Imperial Guards to cross the Yalu and make a reconnaissance along the left bank of the river for the purpose of discovering the character of the Russian fortifications along the heights on the right bank of the river. The Japanese force advanced towards Koshin and then dispatched a small detachment to the village, where a party of Russians was encountered. In the engagement which followed five Russians were killed. The Russians shelled the part of Yashoku. This fire was ineffective.

The 12th division of the Japanese army was chosen to make the first crossing of the Yalu. It began its preparations on Friday by driving the Russians from their position on the bank of the river opposite Sukochino. Russians from their position on the bank of the river opposite Sukochino, which is eight miles above Wiju, the point selected for crossing. This division constructed pontoon bridges over the river and at 5 o'clock Saturday morning it began crossing. The entire division passed over the river during the day and by 5 o'clock on Saturday evening it was in the position assigned to it for a battle on Sunday. The bridge across the main stream of the Yalu, just above Wiju, was completed at 5 o'clock Saturday night and the second Japanese division and two sections of the Imperial guards immediately began crossing.

They advanced and occupied the hills back of Koshin, facing the Russian position on the right bank of the river. All through the night regiment after regiment of Japanese soldiers poured across the bridge and at a late hour Saturday night General Kuraki telegraphed to the general of the staff of the army: "I will attack the enemy on May 1 at dawn."

True to his promise, he at daylight today centered all his artillery on the Russian position between Chiu Tien Cheng and Yashoku. To this fire the Russians made reply with all the batteries.

At 7 o'clock in the morning the Russian battery at Yashoku was silenced and half an hour later General Kuraki ordered his line stretched across the river for the purpose of crossing.

The Japanese infantry on the word of command charged across the river, wading the stream, and began storming the heights at fifteen minutes past eight. At 9 o'clock they had swept the Russian line back across the plateau. Reports of this fighting which have been received here do not indicate whether the Russians retired down the river or in the direction of Feng Huan Cheng.

Various opinions are expressed in London regarding the importance of the Japanese victory at the Yalu. It is considered in some quarters that it was never likely that the Russians would hold the right bank of the Yalu, it was never likely that the Russians would hold the right bank of the Yalu, it was never likely that the Russians would hold the right bank of the Yalu.

The Daily Telegraph in an editorial says: "The Russians have been driven from a fortified position in spite of every advantage enabled by modern arms."

A despatch from Mukden says General Kuropatkin arrived there Sunday morning and left in the afternoon. His destination is not stated. The London daily papers commenting upon Russia's repudiation of mediation consider Russia's official note as solely intended for home consumption. As none of the powers would be likely to intervene unless previously asked, it is assumed that mediation would be welcome. They hint that Russia may be prepared to regret that she closed the door prematurely on the possibility of Russian intervention and regard the note as dispelling all hope of an early termination of hostilities. The Daily Telegraph says: "The note breathes an uncompromising determination to fight while there is a ruble in the treasury, but no other course would be regarded worthy of a great world power."

A letter mailed in London, England, on the evening of April 19th, was received here on Monday evening, May 2nd, just thirteen days later. The letter came via Boston and the rapid transit of the British mails is attributed to the efforts of the American line to capture the mail contracts from the Allan line.

They will be run by a gasoline engine. As soon as these are taken out to Lumsden passengers will be booked for all points north.

The Eye Opener: The Edmonton fire brigade are out with their annual announcement that they are coming down with a hose team and a football team to enter the lists against Calgary on May 24th. This same announcement bubbled up last year and the year before that, but the Edmonton fire ladders seem to have been seized each time with a panic at the last moment, for they never showed up. Let us hope that General "Bob" Tomynski Kuratkin Lander will be able to rally his forces this time and move down on Captain Smart's brigade for a friendly tussle.

A meeting to complete arrangements for forming a choral society, was held in the lecture room of the Methodist church last evening, over forty-five being present. Rev. H. A. Gray, president, occupied the chair, and outlined the work which it was proposed to take up. The membership fee was placed at $1.50, this sum to include the cost of music. It was decided to make an effort to produce Gounod's "Redemption" during the latter part of July. The purpose of taking up this work in the summer is that the skating rink may be utilized for its production. Over forty members enrolled last night and it is expected the number of voices will be about eighty.

The Canadian Militia

At the banquet held recently by the St. George's Society of Halifax, Major-General Sir Charles Parsons was one of the guests of honor. When he arose to respond to the toast of the army and navy he was enthusiastically applauded. He said that the British army, during the past few years, had made great progress, and the lessons learned during the Boer war had worked improvement, and British army to-day was more efficient than ever before. Canada's greatest danger would be from an attack by land forces, and to meet this contingency it was absolutely necessary to have efficiently equipped bodies of men. The General was glad to know that the feeling in Canada tended strongly towards the organization of rifle associations. Too much attention was seemingly paid to expert, or individual, firing. It would be preferable to have a lot of men with collective excellence at firing, to individual accuracy in prize or target shooting. The General favored regular visits of the Canadian militia to Aldershot, and great military centres. The interchange of ideas would be valuable to the British army, and the colonial forces. Preparation for war was best attained by having efficient fighting forces, for the men so trained are really paying premium on the defence of their country. The power of diplomacy is passing away, and we have practically nothing now to depend upon but our fighting men. In closing the General said that if all the English speaking people wanted welding together the two great nations—Britain and America—should unite for the protection of both. They would make a solid block, sufficiently strong to withstand any opposition made by the other combined nations of the world.

Liberal Candidates

The Liberal party concluded the selection of candidates for the Federal seats in the Northwest Territories last week. The ten Liberal candidates are as follows: Peter Talbot, Strathcona; Dr. Stewart in Calgary; M. McKenzie in Alberta; Walter Scott, in Qu'Appelle; J. C. Turritt in East Assiniboia; T. O. Davis in Saskatchewan; A. J. Adamson, in Humboldt; Dr. Cash in Macdonald; P. Oliver, in Edmonton.

Confessed to Murder

The preliminary investigation into the charge of murder preferred against Jacob Robin at Yorkton, began before Magistrate Hopkins and Bradbrook on Saturday. At the conclusion of the hearing the accused was sent up for trial. The evidence was purely circumstantial with the exception of the confession of the accused made to a neighbor, that he choked his wife to death.

M. P. May Came West

Free Press:

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Clifford Buxton, minister of the interior, and Sir Frederick Borden, minister of militia, were interviewed on Saturday by E. W. Housack, general manager of the Dominion of Canada Exhibition to be held at Winnipeg, and by W. E. McCreary, M. P. These gentlemen were seeking government approval of the sending of a parliamentary train to Winnipeg during the two weeks of the fair. Their suggestion was that a train should be made up at the Halifax for the benefit of such members of parliament, of boards of trade, of stock exchanges and of newspapers and should be sent through to Winnipeg, the object being to bring the growth of the west and its possibilities for development more prominently before the leading men of eastern Canada. The idea is that the government and the railways should furnish the train, but that the tourists should pay for their meals and for all else except the transportation and sleeping berths. The train is to remain in Winnipeg several days, the tourists staying in their cars owing to the lack of hotel accommodation in the prairie city. Then it will be taken through the west in order that the good points of the country may be impressed on the visitors. If time would permit, the trip would be extended to the Pacific. The trip would take a couple of weeks and would be very instructive to those who might take it. One of the members suggested that the C.P.R., G.T.R., and C.N.R. should furnish the rolling stock. He said the other members of the cabinet would favorably impressed with the scheme.

Winter Wheat in Alberta

A Lethbridge despatch says: The success that has attended the growing of winter wheat out from the foothills, and still within the area of moderate rainfall is resulting in considerable activity in settlement and colonization in the winter Spring Coulee and High River. The Spring Coulee country is practically all taken up. Experiments with fall wheat by E. B. Thompson, the turkey red being the variety that proved most suitable and prolific, led to a sale of almost all the lands in this section to Illinois colonists. The same kind of soil, and identical character as to moisture, are leading to the buying and actual cultivation of the lands further north. Clareholm recently of considerable settlement last year. High River has also become busy with homesteaders, and it is an easy guess that the land south of Calgary to the boundary will attract much denser settlement than the Edmonton country has in the past three years. The land is equally good, is free from scrub, the season is quicker, and the climate a rather strong contrast to the climate of the north country. The soil is a black loam with clay subsoil, and carries a very heavy top of grass. The settlement of this country will be depriving the rancher of the best feeding ground in the country, but will greatly increase the wealth and production of the district.

MANITOBA FLOODS

WATER RISING AGAIN

A Portion of the Town of Emerson Flooded and Traffic Impeded. Winnipeg Icebreak Gone

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Winnipeg, May 4.—The Emerson flood predictions have at last been verified, in that the water, which was supposed to be receding last week, has made gains of several inches and is in the gutters of the main street.

The greater part of the town is untouched but the northern part is under water and being on this temporary lake, is inundated by the water, which inconveniences traffic. The big ice guard stationed in mid-current in the Red river, opposite the Broadway bridge, Winnipeg, was carried away last evening.

SEEDING REPORT

SPRING WORK ADVANCED

The Second Report Issued by the C. P. R. Estimates That 50 per cent of the Grain is Sown in the West

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Winnipeg, May 4.—The second seeding report to be issued by the C. P. R. indicates that operations are being carried throughout Manitoba and the Territories, and while in some districts, notably along the prairie sections in the neighborhood of Bush Lake and Yellow Grass, complaints are made of too much moisture, elsewhere the weather conditions are extremely favorable. At those points which are of higher elevation the seeding has progressed rapidly and at Poplar Point, Earle, Strathclair, Mather, Otterbourne and Dominion City, it is estimated that over 50 per cent of the work is finished.

In the low-lying districts the work is yet delayed owing to wet ground.
